FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Media Contact:
Lindsay Toghill
lindsay.toghill@waterworksmuseum.org
Phone: 617-905-3596

“Eden on the Charles” author to appear at the Waterworks Museum

Boston, MA (July 7, 2011) - The Waterworks Museum today announced the appearance of author Michael Rawson on July 12th during a special installment in its ongoing lecture series.

Author of “Eden on the Charles – The Making of Boston”, Mr. Rawson will explore how changing ideas about nature, class, and the environment shaped the city and, eventually, the region. Rawson's book tells the story of the political and social tensions between the city, the suburbs, and the country. Driving the process was the most potent resource of all - water.

Mr. Rawson will also address the critical role that water played in the development of America's original “City Upon the Hill”.

As a special program within the lecture series, this program has a nominal $5 fee, and is open to the public.

WHAT : Waterworks lecture series

WHERE: Waterworks Museum
2450 Beacon Street, Boston
617-277-0065
WHEN: Wednesday, July 12, 2011
7-9pm

RSVP: info@waterworksmuseum.org or 617-277-0065

More information about these lectures and tours, as well as an updated schedule can be found under the “calendar” tab on the Waterworks website www.waterworksmuseum.org.

###